- Across Asia, two in five Christians are persecuted. Though they face great trials, God's Word is a source of hope for believers in Asia.
- Last year, about 120 kids and teens were reached with the Gospel each hour. The hope of the Gospel is transforming the next generation.
- Today, there are more than 8 billion people in the world. Only about 30% of them follow Jesus. Many are Muslim, Hindu, Buddhist, or don't identify with any religion at all. There are still so many who are desperately craving the truth that can only be found in God's Word.
